

Chuck Caracozza

Meteorologist
NOAA
National Weather Service
Miami / South Florida

Chuck Caracozza is a meteorologist at the NOAA National Weather Service forecast office (WFO) in Miami, FL.

He received a Bachelor of Science degree in Meteorology from Rutgers University (2003). While a student there, he was President of the Cook College Meteorology Club which won the AMS Student Chapter of the Year award for the 2002/2003 academic year.

Upon graduation, Chuck was employed by Accuweather in State College, Pennsylvania, where he was a Broadcast Meteorologist from 2003 to 2007. He joined NOAA in November 2007, taking a Meteorologist position with the National Weather Service forecast office in Miami.

During his time with WFO Miami, Chuck has led the weather radio program and, since 2015, has been the Editor in Chief for the Tropical winds Newsletter. He has also helped to train the staff to become certified in taking upper air observations. He also helped narrate a Hurricane Andrew 25th Anniversary Special produced by Anthony Reynes, the WFO Miami Multimedia Program Director.

Chuck's personal interests include traveling, spending time at the beach, watching football, and spending time with his friends and family.

January 2021