Subject: Delay of the Spring 2022 Forecast Zones Implementation Date to March 29, 2022 due to a Critical Weather Day (CWD) Declaration

The National Weather Service (NWS) is delaying all zone change implementations originally scheduled for March 22, 2022 (March 23, 2022 in Tiyan and Guam). The delay is due to a CWD declaration, prompting a zone change implementation date in a more favorable weather window of opportunity.

The implementation date is now scheduled for Tuesday, March 29, 2022 (March 30, 2022 in Tiyan and Guam). If March 29, 2022 is also declared a CWD, another Public Information Statement (PNS) will be issued specifying a second backup date.

Service Change Notices (SCNs) affected include:
